STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Pavan Gowda has been an exceptional student with Stanford EPGY. His passion for STEM is visible inside and outside the classroom. Pavan is the founder of Green Kids Now which helps kids apply their knowledge of math and science towards green and environmentally positive technology. Pavan has received much recognition for his work including a President's Environmental Youth Award.

HOW ARE WE DOING?

We would love if you could take a few moments (about 2 minutes) to review your experience with us.

Famous April Birthdays

Pavan is always looking to get other kids involved in Green Kids Now. He has organized an upcoming conference, The Green Kids Conference, on Saturday, May 31, 2014. It is fun, free, and will spread the word about environmental issues and the different ways how you can help.

To find out more go to <http://greenkidsconference.org/> or email info@greenkidsconference.org.
